内容简介

The Complete Encyclopedia of Formula one chronicles the history of the world championship, from Giuseppe Farina's Victory for Alfa Romeo at Silverstone on 13 May 1950 to the present day.

All the top drivers are profiled, and there is a wealth of information on the major marques and championship venues, while the comprehensive statistics section will settle many an argument.

It is a story of ingenuity and endeavour, rivalry and camaraderie, triumph and tragedy, in pursuit of the greatest prize in motor sport.
