内容简介

Today ' S home buyers want more than cookie—cutter designs . They want visually exciting , technologically smart houses . They want Unique Houses . Here are dozens of truly unique homes , packed with the latest ideas on layout , design , materials , and functionality . Each project is presented with full—color photographs , floor plans , commentary frOm the architects , construction details , and more . Just as no two home owners are alike , no two of these unique houses are alike-but all of them are sure to inspire .
