内容简介

There's a new kitten in the house, and Noodles is afraid she's going to get all of the attention. He doesn't think the family needs a new pet—especially one who is small and clumsy. She makes a mess of everything! But when the neighborhood puppies laugh at her mistakes, Noodles feels protective of the tiny tiger kitten. He learns that as his family gets bigger, so does his heart!

This funny Level 1 story is perfect for beginning readers.

作者简介

Hans Wilhelm (born September 21, 1945) is a German-American writer, children's book author and illustrator, and artist. Hans Wilhelm has written and/or illustrated over 200 books – mostly for children. They have been translated in twenty languages and have won numerous international awards and prizes. Many of them have been made into animated television series. Presently there are over thirty five million books by Hans Wilhelm in print. Some of his best-known books include “ I ’ ll Always Love You ” , “ Bunny Trouble ” series, “ Tyrone The Horrible ” series, “ Waldo ” series, and the “ Noodles ” books.

Wilhelm was born in Bremen, Germany where he grew up. Following his studies of art and business, he moved for 12 years to South Africa where he worked, painted, and was an acting member of a satirical theater group. His writing career began when he embarked on a three-year trip around the world where he lived in Bali, Spain, England and many other places. Finally he came to America where he lives with his wife Judy Henderson in Weston, Connecticut.
